BOARD OF DIRECTOR CANDIDATES:

District No. 3 – Odell

Brian Nakamura - Brian and his wife, Marla, own and operate a 50-acre pear and cherry orchard on Willow Flat Road. He attended schools in the valley and graduated from Oregon State University. Brian previously worked as a consulting engineer in California and Florida before returning to Hood River in 1991 to run the family orchard. He has served on the Hood River Soil and Water Conservation District Board, the East Fork Irrigation District Board, and has served on Hood River Supply's board for 18 years.

District No. 4 – Pine Grove

John Wells - John is a Hood River native, graduated from Wy'East High School. John received a Bachelor of Science degree in Entomology and Horticulture from Oregon State in 1975, and a Masters Degree from Michigan State in Horticulture. Upon graduation, John returned to Hood River to work on the family orchard, Wells & Sons, in 1978. John is in charge of production management for the family operation. John has served on numerous industry-related committees and boards including Hood River Grower Shipper Research Committee, Winter Pear Control Research Committee, and Oregon and Washington Horticultural Society, and he has served on Hood River Supply's board for 12 years.

At-Large Position

Randy Franz - Randy was born and raised on the west side of Hood River, and has owned and operated his own construction company for 33 years, doing mostly new construction work locally. His company took part in the construction of both the Odell and Hood River stores. As of 2017, Randy is semi-retired from construction. He has been on the Farmers Irrigation Budget Committee for the last 8 years.

Community Sponsorship

Hood River Supply continues a long standing tradition of giving back to the community in which we do business. Thanks to a dollar matching grant available from Land O'Lakes Foundation, Hood River Supply will once again be able to donate to both the Fish Food Bank and The Next Door, each in the amount of $500. This matching dollar grant will give each of these organizations a total donation of $1000 to work toward combating hunger and helping those in need in our community.
